

The early days
of livestock farming

Milk replacers for young animals

Milk is life !

Milk is life. Milk is the first decisive food in the development of a living creature.

Liquid feeding is an essential phase of animal husbandry, and the performance of animals and profitability of farms depends on it. Lactalis Feed supports success during this crucial phase, essential for your future development and that of your livestock farmers.

A European leader

With Lactalis Feed, the leader in milk replacers for young animals, nourish high ambitions for your young calves, kids, lambs and piglets.

Local specialists

Internationally, Lactalis Feed relies on a network of well-established distributors who are in direct contact with livestock farmers using the products. In close partnership with you, our nutritional specialists choose the products which will produce the best possible results within your husbandry systems, adapting formulae to your specific constraints !

Recognised expertise

As they carry out their assignments, our advisers are supported by:

- the resources and expertise of Europe's largest private dairy group;
- the innovative force of an engineering team dedicated to researching and developing new technical and nutritional solutions;
- results from our national network, made up of 200 reference livestock farmers, and an international network of partner farms covering some twenty countries.

Our pedigree

Lactalis Feed, France's largest producer of milk replacers for breeding and fattening young animals, sells its products in 30 countries across the world. Annual production is around 100,000 tonnes.

Our rapid growth is part of the strong development demonstrated by the Lactalis group, which with its international influence is the number one private dairy group in Europe, and the global number three.

A specific solution to your requirements

Milk replacers for veal calves

A range of feeds suited to each production type, which fits your technico-economic objectives.

Milk replacers for dairy calves

A comprehensive and varied range for the successful weaning of heifers, key to future dairy success.

Milk bases for piglets

Technology and a large variety of ingredients have been specially selected to guarantee performance, ease of use and consistent quality. Tailored formulations can be developed.

Milk replacers for lambs and kids

Specific feed for weaning kids and fattening lambs and kids.

Constant progress

Our research and development centre, which specialises in dairy products, investigates and innovates continually.

Before they are developed, new breeding products and techniques are tested by our reference breeders in the milk (Lactalis collection) and Meat (Tendriade division) subsidiaries.

These trials, carried out both in France and internationally, constantly contribute to advances made by Lactalis Feed, which are used, as a priority, to meet the expectations of partner clients.

Cutting-edge technology

Lactalis Feed uses cutting-edge technology to improve the efficiency of its products and therefore the competitiveness of your business.

Refatting and drying dairy products using liquid techniques offers significant technical and practical advantages: easier solubility, better digestibility, fluidity in feed systems, excellent product life due to protection of fats, etc.

Quality guarantees

Our milk replacers meet the highest quality standards. Our production methods comply with the good practice standards for young animal feed set by the Syndicat de la Vitellerie Française (French Cattle Industry Union). They follow HACCP quality procedures. All our ingredients and finished products are certified by our analysis laboratory, itself ISO 14001 certified. The internal and external control procedures implemented by the Lactalis group companies go beyond legal requirements.

Customer satisfaction is our absolute priority. Quality is our trademark.

Feed your business for growth

To feed the growth of your business, Lactalis has developed specific solutions to meet your requirements: milk replacers for veal calves, dairy calves, lambs and kids and milk bases for piglets.

We have designed and produced our milk replacer ranges to guarantee you optimal technico-economic performance.
